

ELECTIVE RESIDENCY VISA

General Information and Step by Step guide

Agg: 27/12/19

The elective residency visa (visto per residenza elettiva) grants entrance to Italy to individuals who have a solid economic situation allowing them to live in Italy without the need to work.

These individuals may include for example retired people and persons wishing to reside permanently in Italy and who can demonstrate a stable and adequate pension income and/or financial resources, high self-sustaining incomes and financial assets.

Money must come from substantial and steady economic resources, with guaranteed continuity in the future. Such resources may come from important incomes (pensions, annuities, etc.), ownership of real estate, ownership of steady economic activities, etc. except subordinate work.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

- The bearer of an Elective Residency visa IS NOT ALLOWED TO WORK within Europe.
- The Elective Residency Visa IS NOT an extended tourist visa. It is a visa for people who legitimately wish to live in Italy and can afford doing it without the need to work.
